A Doubly Good Work.

All people who eat are indebted to the Royal Baking Powder Company not more for having perfected and prepared a leavening agent that is pure and wholesome beyond a quesiion than for its exposures, so boldly made, of the numerous impure, adulterated and injurious articles that are sold under the name of bakng powders, bread preparations, etc., in this community. In making these exposures the Company has, of course, made itself the target for all sorts of counter attacks, but the animus of these attacks has been perfectly understood by the general public, and by their very virulence have served to more prominently call attention to the good work of the "Royal Company."

Food frauds of the usual class, such as wooden nutmegs, chickory coffee and watered milk, although they are swindles in a commercial sense, are often tolerated because they do not particularly affect the health of the consumer. But when an article like baking powder that is relied upon for the healthful preparation of almost every meal is so made as to carry highly injurious if not rankly poisonous elements into our daily food it would seem to be the duty of the press as well as of the criminal authorities to take cognizance of it.

In the fight for pure food made by the "Royal" Company some time ago, when its guns were particularly trained against the alum baking powders, it was noticed that the most trustworthy scientific authorities were emphatically upon its side. So in the recent contest with the lime and other impure baking powders, the result has proved that every statement made by the Royal Baking Powder Company, both as to the purity of its own and the adulteration of other baking powders of the market, was fully authorized by the most competent chemical and medical authorities of the country.

In this contest two facts have been pretty conclusively settled in the minds of the public—first, that the Royal Company has found the means, and uses them, to make a chemically pure article of food, and the other that average baking powder, no matter how strongly endorsed by "commercial chemists," is an exceedingly doubtful preparation.

Pure baking powders are one of the chief aids to the cook in preparing perfect and wholesome food. The recent controversy in the press has left it no longer a question with those who desire purity and wholesomeness of food what baking powder they shall use.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.—It has heretofore been a mystery to us why STRANGERS are generally charged so extravagantly by HOTELS in large cities. Happening a short time since at the GALT HOUSE, corner of Sixth and Main streets, CINCINNATI, OHIO managed by W. E. MARSH, Jr., son of the proprietor who established the Galt House FIFTY years ago, the mystery was solved. The accommodations at the GALT HOUSE ARE EQUAL in every respect to the best TWO DOLLAR per day hotel, and yet the charges are only ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS per day for meals and room; single meals THIRTY-FIVE CENTS. The GALT is HEADQUARTERS for the most complete meals, which together with FREE use of PARLOR, OFFICE, CHECK-ROOM, etc., constitute the greatest BARGAIN obtainable in the city. The solution is easy when the facts are known. The GALT is run exclusively in the interest of STRANGERS, the same RATE being charged per day, at all times, to EVERYONE. Whatever will produce a reasonable RENT for the property is the EXTENT of its charges thus doing away with the usual LESSEE'S profits. Its management is constantly under the immediate and personal control of the OWNER W. E. MARSH, Jr. Its employes being paid according to the volume of business, are efficient and reasonable in cost. The above peculiarities, a low UNIFORM price, a reasonable RENT-charge ONLY, a rigorous and practical supervision of its internal affairs, and CO-OPERATIVE salary payments, have secured for the GALT a fair transient trade, and the experiment is a success, producing RENT for the real estate. To this benefactor who has made it possible to stay TWO DAYS in the city at the usual expense of ONE, we heartily recommend our friends

The Malay Archipelago has again been the scene this year of great volcanic eruptions. It is in this Malayian sea, thickly strewn with the most beautiful of islands, that the volcanic forces of the world have displayed their greatest energy. We have in our own country, in northern California, Oregon, and Washington Territory, a display of volcanic phenomena that is believed to be the most prodigious in the world. The subterranean forces, however, that covered our Western coast regions with immense outpourings of volcanic matter, long the lovely islands of the Malay Archipelago.

News comes from South Carolina that demand for Confederate bonds has again been renewed, and a large quantity of them are being purchased by Charleston and Columbia brokers, for $1.75 per $1,000. One broker, on being interrogated, stated that he could furnish no further information but the fact that the bonds were purchased to fill an order from Richmond. His order, he said, was not limited as to amount; he was simply instructed to buy all bonds that were offered at $1.75 per $1,000.

Hendrick's Death.

Vice President, Thomas A. Hendricks, died at his residence, in Indianapolis, Ind., on the evening of Nov. 25th, very suddenly. He had been complaining about ten days previous, but nothing serious was thought to be troubling him.

Thus, after a long struggle to secure a high place in the gift of the people, he passes away, before he had fairly commenced the work that he expected to do, and the Nation goes into mourning once more. Well, death is a sure thing, and it comes when it is ready, let be what will.

Wilsey, Morris Co., Kansas.

The above named town was located 18 months ago on the new railroad Topeka, Salina & Western. It now has over two hundred inhabitants. The probabilities are that this road will be one of the best lines near the Missouri River. From now on we have a daily train. The town, Wilsey, is located on a beautiful plain, surrounded by a fine country and good soil. We have for sale a choice lot of lands, improved and unimproved, at very reasonable figures and will soon advertize a list of lands again. Very Respectfully.

Happiness

results from that true contentment which indicates perfect health of body and mind. You may possess it, if you will purify and invigorate your blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. E. M. Howard, Newport, N. H., writes: "I suffered for years with Scrofulous humors. After using two bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, I great relief. It has entirely restored me to health." James French, Atchison, Kans., writes: "To all persons suffering from Liver Complaint, I would strongly recommend Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was afflicted with a disease of the liver for nearly two years, when a friend advised me to take this medicine. It gave prompt relief, and has cured me." Mrs. H. M. Kidder, 41 Dwight st., Boston, Mass., writes: "For several years I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla in my family. I never feel safe, even without it. As a liver medicine and general purifier of the blood, it has no equal." Mrs. A. B. Allen, Winterpock, Va., writes: "My youngest child, two years of age, was taken with Bowel Complaint, which we could not cure. We tried many remedies, but he continued to grow worse, and finally became so reduced in flesh that we could only move him upon a pillow. It was suggested by one of the doctors that Serofula might be the cause of the trouble. We procured a bottle of and commenced giving it to him. It surely worked wonders, for, in a short time, he was completely cured."

CONFIDENCE WELL PLACED.

Two well-known men in Dayton, O., are William W. Rockfield and George K. Brierley, who are foremen of the paint shop and machine shop respectively, of the works of J. W. Stoddard & Co. They are both skilled mechanics and pride themselves upon the excellence of their work. We are not informed as to whether they agree in politics and upon those questions of general interest which divide the public mind, but they are firm friends, and upon one question they stand together absolutely united. Experience has led both of them to place the most implicit faith in Athlophoros as a sure remedy for rheumatism and neuralgia, and nothing can shake their confidence in it. That this confidence is well grounded the stories which they tell of the benefits conferred by it will fully show. As the case which Mr. Rockfield relates, that of the cure of his daughter from a terrible attack of neuralgia, is the more remarkable we will let him speak first. He says:

"Athlophoros did what nothing else was able to do for my daughter. For four months she was in a most distressing condition from neuralgia. Such an extreme case probably never existed before—at least I never heard of such a one. She was confined to her bed for months, suffering everything but death. Such was her condition that the least noise would disturb her. The sound of footsteps made by people passing on the pavement below her window would annoy her. She was so sick that we dispaired of her life. Nothing that we could do did her any good, and it seemed as if the pain in her head would drive her out of her mind. I had read of some of the cures made by Athlophoros, but really did not think that it could ever touch such a severe case as my daughter's. However, I bought a bottle and began giving her the medicine.

"To my surprise—and it certainly was wonderful—after she had taken a half bottle she was able to get up and go down stairs. After that she was never confined to her room. I never saw or heard of a medicine working as that did in my daughter's case."

"Did she continue using it?"

"Yes. She took some twelve bottles."

"Does she have any return of the pain?"

"She had a little in the back a few weeks ago, but it was nothing. I consider her case most wonderful and beyond all conception by those who did not see her during her affliction."

Mr. Brierley was also afflicted with neuralgia, but fortunately for him, although the case was severe, it did not go such terrible lengths as in Miss Rockfield's case. This is what Mr. Brierley says of it:

"I was afflicted with neuralgia for many years. I indured the agony which no one can imagine except those who have been afflicted as I was. My head felt as if it would burst and I walked the floor for nights and days, not being able to sleep. Finally I decided to change the treatment I had, and which gave me no relief, and to use Athlophoros. I used one bottle, and since that time I have been at my work and have not suffered from the neuralgia."

"How did you first hear of Athlophoros?"

"I knew how it had cured Mr. Rockfield's daughter, whose case was, of course, much worse than mine."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed. ATHLOPHOROS Co., 112 Wall Street, New York.
